DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the information pertaining to related applications at the beginning of the specification is incomplete and should be updated with application numbers and the current status.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 28-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Woo et al., U.S. patent No. 6,596,230 B1.

Woo et al., teach a disposable, flexible and substantially flat light treatment chamber, transmissible to light in Applicant's claimed wavelength range. The chamber is formed having input and output ports to facilitate flow therethrough, is supported by restraining means and is formed of materials as claimed by Applicant, such as FEP.

See specifically Fig. 2 and column 8, lines 49-65.

Art Unit: 1744

Claims 28-29, 32 and 36-37 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Vizzini et al., U.S. patent No. 3,683,183.

See particularly column 6, line 52 through column 7, line 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1744

Claims 28-31 and 35-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wolf, Jr. et al., U.S. patent No. 5,290,221.

Wolf, Jr. et al., teach the use of a flexible, light-transmissive, treatment chamber restrained by solid supports and having input and output ports for the flow of fluid therethrough (see Fig 16 or 20 and column 9, lines 35-68). Wolf, Jr. et al., do not specifically recite that the chamber is disposable, however, it is well held in the treatment of blood products, that single use items are essential to minimize cross-contamination and as such, it would have been well within the purview of one of ordinary skill in the art to form the treatment chamber of Wolf, Jr. et al., as a disposable, single use item.
